GGConverter does not support the poker room client for Windows and MacOS. The converter works through a mobile poker app, so before installing the converter you need to download and install the Android emulator. The emulator allows you to run mobile apps when you are using your PC or laptop. GGConverter supports two of the most popular Android emulators: NoxPlayer and LdPlayer.

How to download and install NoxPlayer

1. Go to the official website of the emulator.

2. Click any of the "Download" buttons. In a few seconds the installation file will start downloading to your computer. The installation file weighs 509 MB. On the main page of the emulator you are always offered to download the latest version.

3. Under the main button there are alternative ways to download the installer. It is possible to download it from Google Drive. "Version Log" provides access to earlier versions of the emulator. "Mac Version" is responsible for the emulator for the Mac operating system. The remaining two buttons have the same result as clicking on "Download" - the latest version of the emulator is downloaded.

4. Run the downloaded file and click "Install". Use "Configure (Set up)" to select the folder where NoxPlayer will be installed. Here you will also be offered to: install a shortcut to the desktop, add the emulator to the taskbar and configure the program autorun at every Windows startup.

5. Before installation, the installer prompts you to download the Opera browser and McAfee WebAdvisor. Reject the tempting offer and the installation of NoxPlayer begins.

How to set up NoxPlayer

Before setting up NoxPlayer, be sure to right-click the program shortcut and select "Run as administrator". If you start the emulator without running it as administrator, you will not be able to move the HUD during the session.

By default, the emulator is configured to work with applications for Android 7. We are interested in an earlier version of the operating system - Android 5. Here's how to add it:

1. From the main Nox screen, go to the "MulDrive" tab (arrowed in the screenshot).

2. In the new window click on "Add Emulator".

How to download the GGPoker mobile app via emulator

- 1. Run the emulator through a shortcut on the desktop.
- 2. Click on the search bar.

If after the GGConverter update the game status changed to "Need forced patch", you need to click on "Tools" and select "Force patch" in the list of converter emulators. Then restart the room in the emulator, wait for the status of "Patched" and restart it again.
